Certified separation mismatch in the fixed reduced model

Exact D2A separation compared with the original and producer-independent D1 enclosures

Interpretation: the independent enclosure contains the narrower original certificate; both are disjoint from D0.

The comparison is an exact interval consequence of two static boundary placements, not a time evolution.

Source: sealed D1 and D2A certificates; exact rational arithmetic rechecked on macOS and Linux.